

Black History Month Special Celebration Event

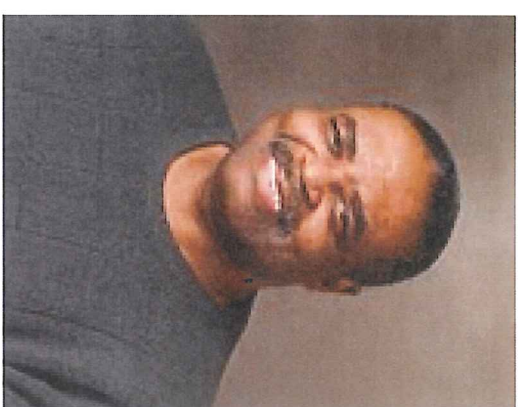

Presented by Employees of Color

Everyone is welcome to attend a very special Black History Month presentation in the Multnomah Bldg. Boardroom, 501 SE Hawthorne Blvd., Monday, February 25, 11:30-1:00pm. Bring your lunch and enjoy!!

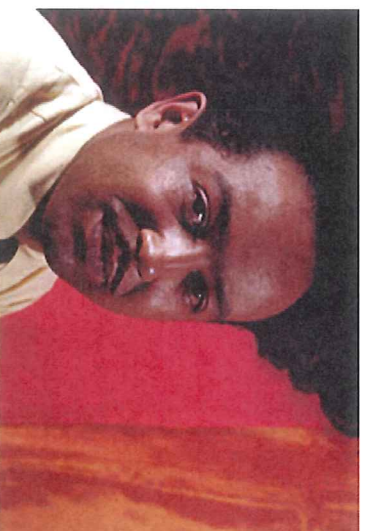

Some of you may remember Dr. Hendrix from our Juneteenth presentation last summer. He will be joined by Jerry Foster as they take center stage sharing personal experiences in Black History, through thought provoking monologues and then together they will do a dramatic reading written by Langston Hughes.

George Hendrix, Ed.D. – is a long time resident of Portland. Presently he claims to be a semi-retired Real Estate broker. He has served on several civic commissions and boards, and as president of the Portland Chapter of the NAACP. In the past, he held leadership positions in professional organizations, taught community college courses, served as Training Officer of a federal government agency, hosted Albina Mosaic, the first weekly television program in Portland dealing with issues of concern to African Americans, performed two seasons with the Portland American Repertory Theater company, participated in several theatre productions of other groups, and appeared in a locally produced, independent, feature film.

JERRY FOSTER - serves as Artistic Director for PassinArt: A Theatre Company. He has performed with various theater companies throughout Portland. Stage credits and performances include: Ma Rainey's Black Bottom, Deceptive Love, The Pews, Pill Hill, A Sunbeam, Ragtime, A Raisin in the Sun, The Velveteen Rabbit, Driving Miss Daisy, Two Trains Running, Peter Pan, Big River and A Soldiers' Play.

James Mercer Langston Hughes (February 1, 1902 – May 22, 1967)
