The National Center for State Courts (NCSC) was hired by the County in 2013 to prepare a programming report to assist in appropriately sizing the new Central Courthouse facility. This draft report has been submitted to the County to portray growth drivers out to 2050. Additionally, the NCSC report integrated input from all Court users groups, while recommending several follow-on areas to evaluate as the County and State determine the scope of the Central Courthouse project it is to design and construct.

The Project Team and Owner's Representative consultants will walk the Board of County Commissioners through a series of considerations and constraints which begin to form the ultimate project scope of the new Central Courthouse
