MEMORANDUM

TO: BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

FROM: BOB SKIPPER, Sheriff

DATE: May 4, 1994

SUBJECT: STAFF REPORT - SHERIFF'S OFFICE ISSUE - JAIL BED EXPANSION

1. Topic

Need for additional jail beds

2. Introduction

Over the next twenty years, METRO has estimated that the population of the tri-county area will increase by about 500,000 people. This increase will place ever increasing demands on the need for jail beds in the region. It is appropriate for the Board to acknowledge this need early and begin discussing the long term funding and staffing strategies needs of the corrections system.

3. Background/Analysis

As the need for additional jail beds in the region becomes more acute, the need for a long range planning process increases. Space needs, site locations, funding strategies, and operational costs should be addressed. Ideas such as an east county booking center, conversion of the Justice Center into a County office building with relocation of the Justice Center to a location outside of the downtown area are just a few ideas already under study,

4. Financial Impact

There is no immediate financial impact. However, funding strategies is a key element in the successful completion of this project.

5. Legal Issues

Funding instruments, and zoning requirements.

6. Controversial Issues

None known.

7. Link to Current County Policies

It is the County's responsibility to determine the level of jail beds necessary to provide a safe community.

8. Citizen Participation

As we near the decision making process, citizen involvement will be critical for the successful siting of the facility.

9. Other Government Participation

Depending upon its location, a number of local jurisdictions will become partners in this endeavor.

TO: BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

FROM: BOB SKIPPER, Sheriff

DATE: May 4, 1994

SUBJECT: STAFF REPORT - SHERIFF'S OFFICE ISSUE - CLEAN UP OF HAZARDOUS MATERIAL SPILLS

1. Topic

Costs for clean up of hazardous material spills and drug labs.

2. Introduction

As a part of the State of Oregon budget cutting process, the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) will no longer guarantee the costs of cleaning up a hazardous material spill or a drug lab. This burden now falls to the local jurisdiction.

3. Background/Analysis

One of the constant dangers facing citizens of Multnomah County is the potential for a hazardous material spill on a major transit way in the Multnomah County area. Whether by truck, rail, barge, or train a hazardous materials incident can cause death, destruction of property, or prolonged closure of a major transportation corridor. The cost of cleaning a spill can run from a few thousand to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Of equal concern but less magnitude is the clean up of drug lab contaminants left when methamphetamine is manufactured.

As a part of the State of Oregon budget cutting process, the Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) will no longer guarantee the costs of cleaning up a hazardous material spill or a drug lab. Prior to this policy, the DEQ assumed the responsibility of hazardous cleanups and then sought reimbursement from the offending party. This burden now falls to the local jurisdiction. Anticipated costs is completely unpredictable and is primarily dependant upon the probability of a hazardous spill.

4. Financial Impact

The financial impact of a cleanup is virtually unknown. A number of variables makes predicting the financial impact virtually impossible to predict. Some key variable include:

- The size and location of the spill
- The number of spills
- The offending party's ability to pay
- The number, size, and frequency that drug labs are found

Recommendations from the Budget Office is that these types of events be treated as contingency issues. They are unexpected, unanticipated events and the cost of cleaning them up is unknown until the size of the event is evaluated. To try to budget for this would be very difficult.

5. Legal Issues

- Legislative effort to require DEQ to resume responsibility for hazardous material incidents and drug lab cleanups.
- County Counsel expertise in cost recovery in the event of a spill or cleanup.

6. Controversial Issues

None known

7. Link to Current County Policies

None known

8. Citizen Participation

Not applicable

9. Other Government Participation

This should be addressed in the next legislative session. A collaborative effort with the DEQ, the Association of Oregon Counties and the Oregon State Sheriff's Association could have impact on this issue.

MEMORANDUM

TO: BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
FROM: BOB SKIPPER, Sheriff
DATE: May 4, 1994
SUBJECT: STAFF REPORT - SHERIFF'S OFFICE ISSUE - LAW ENFORCEMENT DEPLOYMENT

1. Topic

Law Enforcement opportunities as a result of redeployment through annexation.

2. Introduction

As areas of East Multnomah County have been annexed by the cities of Portland and Gresham, the role of the Sheriff's Office as a law enforcement agency has been redefined. New opportunities present themselves in the form of community partnerships for a new way of providing police services.

3. Background/Analysis

It is the traditional function of a Sheriff in the State of Oregon to provide law enforcement services to the county. Incorporated cities may elect to provide their own police service, but it is still the responsibility of the Sheriff to provide specific services mandated to the Sheriff by Oregon Statute.

The Sheriff's Office considers itself to be the only 24 hour per day, seven day per week social service agency in Multnomah County government. This statement is not intended to imply superiority over other county programs. Rather it is to emphasize the values that the Sheriff's Office feels are important to the delivery of services to its constituency. Annexation can be viewed with fear and uncertainty, or as an opportunity to grow, try unique things, and make Multnomah County a more livable community.

While the Sheriff's Office has a vision of more non-traditional types of policing, it can't neglect the traditional responsibilities to those citizens who are dependant upon the Sheriff's Office for its primary law enforcement services. Therefore, a balance must be struck between fulfilling the needs of citizens who live in unincorporated Multnomah County or in cities too small to support a full service police department and the less traditional activities that the Sheriff's Office views as its future.

4. Financial Impact

At this point there will be no financial impact to Multnomah County. FY 1994-95 should see the remnants of the east county annexations completed. A redeployment plan has been developed which will address the County's law enforcement efforts with existing resources.

5. Legal Issues

Not applicable

6. Controversial Issues

The role of the Sheriff's Office in county wide law enforcement efforts and the relationships with the Cities of Portland and Gresham.

7. Link to Current County Policies

The County, by Board resolution, acknowledged the role of the Sheriff's Office as a county wide law enforcement agency. The efforts of the Sheriff's Office directly link to the following benchmarks:

- Index Crimes
- Drug Treatment
- Domestic Abuse
- Mental Health Access
- Recidivism
- Health Care Access
- Sense of Community
- Sense of Safety
- Diversion Programs

8. Citizen Participation

Past CBAC's have supported the role of the Sheriff's Office as a county wide law enforcement agency.

9. Other Government Participation

We are continually seeking partnership roles for policing projects with other local jurisdictions. Examples of current partnerships is the Brentwood/Darlington Safety Action Team, Special Investigations Unit and SERT partnerships with the City of Gresham, ROCN, etc.

MEMORANDUM

TO: BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

FROM: BOB SKIPPER, Sheriff

DATE: May 4, 1994

SUBJECT: STAFF REPORT - SHERIFF'S OFFICE ISSUE - POST OF CORRECTIONS OFFICERS FOR HOSPITAL GUARD

1. Topic

Increase the number of Corrections Officers by one post in order to staff the function of guarding inmates who are hospitalized while in custody.

2. Introduction

In the early eighties, when the Sheriff's Office assumed the role of Corrections, hospitalization of inmates was an infrequent occurrence. This was due to a small inmate population. When required, hospital security posts were staffed with overtime. With the addition of new facilities, the frequency of inmates requiring hospitalization has grown to the equivalent of a full time post. This add package would create the hospital guard post and allow us to staff it on a full time basis in lieu of overtime.

3. Background / Alternative / Analysis

It is the responsibility of the Sheriff to attend to the medical needs of any inmate that he has in his custody. In a jail population of 40,000 annual bookings, it is not unusual to have at least one inmate in need of hospitalization at all times. In the past, hospitalized inmates were guarded by the use of overtime. In the early days of corrections management inmates were hospitalized on a relatively infrequent basis. However, this was based upon a jail bed capacity of 737. With the addition of MCRC and MCII, the capacity has grown to 1,331 which has caused a greater need for inmate hospitalization.

The use of overtime to staff the post of the corrections hospital function is no longer a cost effective alternative. Between Portland Adventist Hospital, the Oregon Health Sciences University, and Immanuel Hospital, the Sheriff's Office is literally dedicating one post of Corrections Officers to the guarding of hospitalized prisoners. This has never been a budgeted activity and the full time nature of the function has placed a burden on our overtime allocation to the point of requiring us to overspend our overtime line item.

4. Financial Impact

This increase would be a general fund increase. It would require the addition of 1 post of Corrections Officers (4.1 FTE's) One time only costs would include hiring, uniform and radios.

• First year total cost to the general fund	204,038
• One time only start up cost	10,414
• Annualized cost less start up	193,624 272,00

5. Evaluation

The effectiveness of this program should be reflected in the realignment of overtime in Corrections Branch. This should have a positive impact on the overspending of overtime.

6. Legal Issues

None known

7. Controversial Issues

None known

8. Link to Current County Policies and Benchmarks

Benchmark of Citizen Satisfaction in Government. While it is acknowledged that this is primarily a maintenance increase, it is reasonable to conclude that the citizen satisfaction in government is directly related to meeting budgetary constraints.

9. Citizen Participation

Not applicable.

10. Other Government Participation

Not Applicable

TO: BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

FROM: BOB SKIPPER, Sheriff

DATE: May 4, 1994

SUBJECT: STAFF REPORT - SHERIFF'S OFFICE ISSUE - OVERTIME FOR TRAINING NEEDS

1. Topic

Increase overtime budget to cover costs for training with integrated Portland Police/Multnomah County training effort.

2. Introduction

In 1992-93, a citizens group called Public Safety 2000 met and made a number of recommendations regarding collaborative efforts which could be made to better utilize resources in area law enforcement. One of those recommendations was a joint training effort between the principal law enforcement agencies in Multnomah County. This add package will increase overtime to allow coverage of post positions so that all deputies may take advantage of this training.

3. Background / Alternative / Analysis

As stated above, in 1992-93, a citizens group called Public Safety 2000 met and made a number of recommendations regarding collaborative efforts which could be made to better utilize resources in area law enforcement. This recommendation was implemented through an intergovernmental agreement between Multnomah County and the City of Portland. In that agreement, the City of Portland agreed to provide training to 61 deputies per year at a cost of $180 per deputy. All materials are provided and the training includes a variety of topics. Those who have attended the training have reported it to be excellent. The equipment and facilities are state of the art and the trainers are very good. This is a very cost effective alternative because the Portland Police Bureau has already purchased some very expensive state of the art equipment. The opportunity to share in the use of this equipment is much more cost effective than the purchase and maintenance of the equipment ourselves.

A hidden cost of any agency which has twenty four hour per day, seven day per week requirements is the backfilling of post positions so that training may be provided for members filling those posts. This add package will increase overtime in order to accomplish this backfilling need. There are approximately 30 positions which are fixed posts and will require backfilling so that others may receive the training.

4. Financial Impact

The financial impact would be an increase in overtime by $60,000.

5. Evaluation

Prior evaluation of this opportunity led us to conclude that this is the most cost effective means of providing police training. It avoids duplication of effort and purchase of equipment, and it provides consistency county wide in training efforts. This can be particularly helpful in joint enforcement efforts at the street level.

6. Legal Issues

Intergovernmental agreement between the City of Portland and Multnomah County to provide training. This was signed on October 28, 1993.

7. Controversial Issues

None known.

8. Link to Current County Policies and Benchmarks

The Multnomah County Chair has placed a high priority on training its employees. This would fit that priority.

9. Citizen Participation

This will be reviewed by the CBAC. It is also a recommendation of Public Safety 2000, a citizen group organized to examine law enforcement issues in Multnomah County.

10. Other Government Participation

City of Portland through an intergovernmental agreement signed October 28, 1993.

MEMORANDUM

TO: BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

FROM: BOB SKIPPER, Sheriff

DATE: May 4, 1994

SUBJECT: STAFF REPORT - SHERIFF'S OFFICE ISSUE - ADDITIONAL STAFFING FOR FISCAL MANAGEMENT

1. Topic

Increase the staffing in the Sheriff's Management and Fiscal Services Unit by two Fiscal Specialist I positions.

2. Introduction

With recent increases in accounting responsibilities, the need to increase staffing in the Management and Fiscal Services Unit is necessary. These increases are due to program budgeting requirements, new programs and grants, and increasing expectations of accountability in government.

3. Background / Alternative / Analysis

In FY 1992-93, the Sheriff's Office began implementing a change in budgeting process. Prior to this year, budgets were written using large, Branch level budgeting categories. This method of budgeting was easier to manage due to the generalization of expenditures, but it did not provide good management and decision making information for budget decision makers or public viewing. Therefore, the Sheriff's Office undertook a new budgeting system. In anticipation of program budgeting, we began budgeting at a lower level in the organization. The most obvious change was in budgeting corrections by facility rather than by system. This new system is now giving us better information in a more "cost centered" approach to budgeting and expenditure tracking. However, it also is a much more personnel intensive structure.

In addition to the new budgeting process described above, some additional needs have occurred which require additional staffing:

1. An increasing desire by the Board of County Commissioners to have more detail in County budgets for budget making decisions.
2. A federal government audit of the Housing Authority of Portland's Columbia Villa Safety Action Team Project in 1992, which created a need for more specific accounting information as a part of their billing.
3. Federal accounting and expenditure requirements for the Target Cities Grant which was just awarded to Multnomah County. The federal accounting requirements are very strict and the grant provided nothing to the Sheriff's Office for fiscal monitoring.
4. Increased workload for tracking expenditures due to the decentralization of Facilities Management. Over $2.5 million was transferred into the Sheriff's Office and did not include any staffing for fiscal monitoring.

5. Increased workload for collecting data for measuring program key results and performance trends. Many of these indicators relate to fiscal measurements. Staffing must be available in order to collect this data.

6. A recent examination by the Multnomah County Auditor of our proposed Inmate Accounting System and the accounting requirements resulting from their examination.

7. Monitoring requirements as a result of the PUC/Hazardous Materials Unit being placed in the Road Fund.

8. Internal priorities such as cash account audits, cross training, financial procedures, etc.

In order to deal with all of the requirements described above, the Sheriff's Office is seeking funding for two Fiscal Specialist I positions. These positions would sufficiently staff us to perform these tasks in a timely manner and ensure adequate internal controls for our accounting process.

4. Financial Impact

The cost of two Fiscal Specialist I positions would be $84,404. A breakdown of these costs is as follows:

First year cost including OTO	$84,404
Start up costs and OTO	$5,850
Ongoing costs	$78,554

These costs would be from the general fund. However, the Board could elect to apply the indirect from the Sheriff's Office portion of the Target Cities Grant ($20,345) and the indirect from the Community Corrections lease of twenty eight beds at the Courthouse ($29,800) to offset the general fund impact of these positions.

5. Evaluation

This addition would be the expansion of an existing function. However, evaluation of its success would be measured by such items as processing time, accuracy of document preparation, evaluation of good internal controls, etc.

6. Legal Issues

Generally Accepted Accounting Procedure (GAAP) places certain requirements on separation of duties to lessen the probability of theft or mismanagement of funds. Adequate staffing is a key element in ensuring a satisfactory separation of duties.

7. Controversial Issues

None known.

8. Link to Current County Policies and Benchmarks

The benchmark "Citizen Satisfaction in Government" is directly linked to the goal of this expansion. It is the desire of the Sheriff's Office to ensure timely processing of purchase orders and contracts and to prepare clear, concise and easily understandable budget documents.

9. Citizen Participation

Not Applicable.

10. Other Government Participation

The County Budget Office has been consulted about the need for additional staffing.

Re: Sheriff's Law Enforcement Budget Issues

Over the past few weeks, I have met extensively and had correspondence with concerned citizens, neighborhood groups, and elected officials about my proposal regarding the future of the Sheriff in law enforcement. These meetings have been very constructive and I have heard a number of interesting ideas that I think are worth pursuing to improve the budget proposal.

These ideas fall into the following categories:

Patrol in Unincorporated East County and Northeast cities

- resident deputy in Corbett with two cars deployed in East County
- use of cars staffed by reserve officers

Patrol in Unincorporated West side

- resident deputy on Sauvie Island
- Portland police patrol in urbanized unincorporated west side

Services to Northeast Cities

- develop an inventory of services the Sheriff's office provides to the Northeast cities

Drug Enforcement

- deputy assigned to work in conjunction with Portland and Gresham drug units to insure response for unincorporated areas and NE Cities

DARE and the proposed juvenile diversion officers

- Cities of Portland and Gresham provide the six officers to work in concert with the District Coordinating Teams and juvenile diversion programs
- Phase out of County's DARE responsibilities in incorporated

- areas as cities assume this responsibility
- Link DARE program with juvenile officers

Community Policing/Safety Action Teams

- continue current partnerships
- expansion of community policing efforts by the City of Portland

Specialized enforcement

- dedicated DUII cars operating countywide
- enhanced river patrol focusing on DUII enforcement

Court Guards and Transport

- privatizing the service(s)
- phasing out the use of deputies over more than one year

Administration

- shifting deputies from other assignments within the Sheriff's office to meet other needs
- additional proportional reductions in administrative costs (e.g. proper level of motor pool spending, review of current command structure)

Organizational Analysis

- contracting for an organizational analysis of the Sheriff's office focused on the most efficient, appropriate use of resources to fulfill the mission identified by the County

Funding for Public Safety Programs

- developing a formula/process for assessing public safety needs and financial impacts throughout the system

I suggest that we incorporate these ideas into our discussion with the Sheriff on May 10.

Re: Rationale for Sworn Officer Transfers, Mission of Sheriff's office, Explanation of Proposed Changes in Functions, and Proposed Use of the Resources Gained

On April 11, I released my proposal to transfer 33 deputies to the City of Portland and also released my public safety budget. The budget described how I would invest the general fund resources gained from the transfer. This memo describes:

- I. Rationale for Transfer of Sheriff's Sworn Officers
- II. Proposed mission of the Sheriff's office
- III. Description and Rationale for the Transfers and Reductions and Summary Budget Sheet
- IV. Proposed Public Safety Budget Initiative (Attached)

I. RATIONALE FOR TRANSFER OF SHERIFF'S SWORN OFFICERS

1. On July 1, 1994, the City of Portland will annex 22,000 mid-county residents and assume service responsibilities for those residents, completing the ten year annexation effort begun by the County's passage of Resolution A and the City's passage of its Urban Services Policy.

2. As a direct result of those annexations, Multnomah County property tax revenues will drop an estimated $510,000. Because of annexations over the last 11 years, the County has lost $9,500,000 in revenues, has transferred service responsibility to the City of Portland, but has not transferred any deputies to the City of Portland since 1985.

3. Because of new positions authorized by the City Council and because of service needs in mid-county, the City of Portland Police Bureau will need to hire at least 40 new officers by July 1, 1994. In addition, the City has an annual turnover of 25 to 40 officers.

4. The Sheriff's office has an experienced, well educated workforce dedicated to and experienced in community policing and public safety. These experienced officers can enhance the public safety needs of city residents.

5. Sheriff's deputies could provide effective law enforcement services to City residents within weeks. Newly hired officers go through an eighteen month training process before they are fully ready to assume patrol responsibilities.

6. With the annexations and shrinking patrol responsibilities, deputies face continuing uncertainty and narrowing career options. A number of deputies have expressed interest in pursuing transfers to the City of Portland.

7. With the annexations, the major patrol responsibility of the Sheriff's office will be the 31,000 residents of unincorporated west and east Multnomah County. With the annexations, the major patrol responsibility of the Sheriff's office will be the 31,000 residents of unincorporated west and east Multnomah County. The state police and regional forester have expressed a willingness to coordinate resources to provide assistance in rural patrol service in East County. The City of Portland has expressed willingness to contract to serve unincorporated west Multnomah County.

8. Exploring the consolidation of certain law enforcement functions between the County and City of Portland will enable the City and County to realize efficiencies over time and end duplication between the forces. Specifically, uniform, well coordinated approaches on drug enforcement, school safety, and community policing will be top priorities. Given the continuing revenue uncertainty, the County and City need to explore every avenue of efficiency.

9. By transferring deputies to the City of Portland, the County will recognize savings which can be used to promote public safety by reducing juvenile crime, repeat crime among adult offenders and assist victims.

10. The Public Safety 2000 Task Force of the Citizens Crime Commission report recognized that the mid-county annexations would soon be completed and recommended that "the Sheriff and Chiefs of Portland and Gresham anticipate these annexations and begin planning for transfer for patrol responsibilities". The Public Safety 2000 Report also recommended Portland supply patrol services in west unincorporated Multnomah County and, that the Sheriff continue to patrol unincorporated East County.

II. PROPOSED MISSION OF THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE

The Sheriff's office had a total of 706 employees in 1993 with responsibilities in Corrections and Law Enforcement. Under my proposal, the Sheriff will have the following functions:

MAINTAIN AN EFFICIENT AND EFFECTIVE JAIL SYSTEM

The Sheriff continues to be responsible for running five corrections facilities, (Inverness Jail, Restitution Center, Correctional Facility, Detention Center, Courthouse Jail) housing 1331 inmates and supervising four programs supervising an additional 256 offenders. He has an important role in making sure offenders are sanctioned and prepared, when appropriate, to reenter the community in a smooth transition to our parole and probation officers in the County's Department of Community Corrections.

EAST COUNTY PATROL AND DETECTIVE WORK

The Sheriff will continue to provide high quality services to residents in east County. The Sheriff budgeted 36 sworn officers in patrol in his 1994 budget to me. With the transfers related to mid-county patrol (13), the west side patrol (5.5), and DUII (2), 15.5 positions remain and $1,600,726 is saved. This level of staffing can provide three cars in the area for most of the week. (5.5 FTE for a 24 hour car). Historically, two cars have been assigned to East County. The budget numbers support an expanded patrol presence, from two cars to three cars, in unincorporated east County.

Because of mid-county annexations and the willingness of the City of Portland to assume full staffing of the Multi-Disciplinary Child Abuse Team, I reduced the detectives budgeted by the Sheriff from 11 to 5, resulting in a savings of $556,900. Maintaining five detectives allows a full time detective on duty at all times to assist in crime follow up. Back up assistance on major crimes can be provided by other jurisdictions through cooperative agreements.

In addition, I am committed to the following steps to increase the level of law enforcement in east county:

1. Work with the State police to increase patrols along the interstate and major tourist areas of the Gorge. I have spoken with the Superintendent of the State Police who has pledged cooperation.
2. Work with the Regional Forester to provide additional coordination and resources in the Gorge area. He has also pledged to cooperate.

CONTRACTS SUPPORTING NORTHEAST CITIES

By maintaining an East County patrol presence, the Sheriff can still contract to provide additional services to the Northeast cities, as long as those contracts reflect his costs.

SAFETY ACTION TEAMS

My proposal includes continuing Sheriff deputies in the Safety Action Teams in Brentwood-Darlington, Columbia Villa and David Douglas. No change in staffing is recommended for these Safety Action Teams.

In a separate action, the Housing Authority of Portland requested that the Sheriff incorporate a Portland officer at the Villa instead of one of the deputies. My understanding is the Sheriff is receptive to that approach.

JUVENILE DIVERSION AND DISTRICT COORDINATING TEAM LIAISONS

The Sheriff is and should be proud of the work his sworn officers have done with youth in our communities. I would like to capitalize on their experience and expertise and have asked him to assign one deputy to each of the County's six service districts to work closely with the Family Centers, and especially, our expanded youth diversion effort.

We want to insure that every young person cited by law enforcement has a hearing and is held accountable for his or her offense. That will require a multi-agency approach with the juvenile department, the community based family centers, and, if approved, the sworn officers with the Sheriff's office, working cooperatively with neighborhood police throughout the county.

I have included in my proposed budget for the Sheriff an additional $396,000 to cover the costs of these deputies.

SCHOOL RESOURCE OFFICERS IN BARLOW AND REYNOLDS

The Sheriff has had success with a school resource officer approach in these schools. Because these schools serve children from several cities and unincorporated areas, it is not as clear whose responsibility it is to provide this service. Gresham has indicated willingness to assist. This role clarification issue can be part of the discussion with the Public Safety Council.

CIVIL PROCESS

The Civil Process Unit carries out mandated duties including enforcement of civil court orders, service of notice of process in civil law suits. Civil Process also provides care, custody and transportation of allegedly mentally ill persons to and from Probate Court as well as courtroom security during involuntary commitment hearings held by Probate Court. As part of our effort to improve the efficiency of this work, we are funding a new data system which will link the warrants system with current inmates. This service is partially offset by fee collection

RIVER PATROL

River Patrol provides law enforcement, investigations and marine safety services to the boating public on the Willamette, Sandy and Columbia Rivers. Services include escort of craft carrying hazardous materials, maintaining clear channels for commercial craft, enforcement of fishing and boating laws, providing waterway security during special events such as Rose Festival, conducting water and boating safety classes and searching for lost boaters and missing persons. Funding is partially provided by Marine Board.

PUC/HAZMAT ENFORCEMENT

The PUC/HAZMAT Unit ensures compliance with statutes governing motor carriers traveling in or through Multnomah County under a contractual agreement with the Public Utilities Commission. Additionally, the Unit is responsible for investigating fatal accidents within unincorporated Multnomah County and participates in the Hazardous Materials Response Team through a mutual aid agreement with surrounding jurisdictions. The Unit also investigates vehicle and industrial accidents. Funding is partially offset by Road fund. No change is proposed.

CONCEALED WEAPONS, ALARM ORDINANCE, AND METRO CONTRACT

The Concealed Weapons Permits Processing Unit processes concealed handgun license applications for all of Multnomah County and handgun sale backgrounds for unincorporated Multnomah County and the City of Gresham.

The Alarm Ordinance Unit administers the countywide alarm ordinance. The enforcement of this Ordinance is intended to motivate alarm holders to reduce the number of false alarms reported. Administration of the Ordinance includes maintaining a permit system, tracking the number of false alarms and collecting fines for false alarms.

The Sheriff's office has entered into a contract with Metro to serve as the coordinating agency in a program designed to investigate and enforce regulations related to the transportation and disposal of solid wastes in the tri-county region.

All these services are fully supported by fees and outside revenue.

TRANSPORT AND SUPERVISION OF PRISONERS

I propose to convert the positions currently held by deputies to corrections officers positions. This would allow an additional 25 transfers over the 1994-5 fiscal year.

Maintaining these functions is an integral part of the Sheriff's responsibilities for maintaining and operating our jails. The issue is how can the work be done in the most efficient way. Because of the cost differential between the average deputy to be transferred and entry level corrections officers, the annualized savings will be over $400,000. I have not assumed any savings during the 1994-5 fiscal year because of the administrative need for time to hire new corrections officers, the need to phase our transfers to Portland, and the need to provide the proper level of vacation pay out as determined by contract and law.

Corrections officers already do this part of the work. Deputies were originally assigned to this work to preserve employment. They are obviously highly trained and offer excellent service. However, corrections officers can receive the proper training to do the job very well also.

III. DESCRIPTION AND RATIONALE FOR THE TRANSFERS AND REDUCTIONS AND SUMMARY BUDGET SHEET

Under my proposal, the following functions currently performed by the Sheriff will be assumed by other jurisdictions, contracted out, or eliminated.

DRUG ENFORCEMENT UNIT

Action Proposed:

Assumption of the functions of the Special Investigations Unit (SIU) of the Sheriff's Office by the City of Portland and elimination of the unit. This is 10 sworn positions and $924,497.

Rationale:

1. Using the Sheriff's data, 80% of the activity of the SIU unit took place in incorporated areas, 15% of the activity was for regional activities, and only 5% in the unincorporated areas. The City of Portland has committed to expanding its current efforts as necessary to pick up this function. Drug house and low level drug dealing enforcement responsibilities will continue with local patrol, but the City has committed to respond and investigate any mid level drug activity including in areas outside of Portland. The City of Portland will also increase its commitment to ROCN as appropriate to continue the quality regional drug enforcement work. ROCN is the regional drug enforcement unit that coordinates major drug investigations.
2. The City of Portland recently received an award for its drug enforcement work. The Western States Information Network, (WISN) a regional narcotics information sharing agency, has named the Portland Police Bureau Drug and Vice Division as the recipient of the 1993 WISN "Oregon Drug Agency of the Year" award. The award, which has been presented since 1989, recognizes extraordinary success in narcotics enforcement and information sharing.
3. Given the past focus of the SIU unit and the willingness of the City to assume the function, continuing this unit would be a clear duplication of effort.

DARE EDUCATION

Action Proposed:

Assumption of the Sheriff's DARE Education function by neighborhood police as part of a community policing philosophy. Elimination of the three positions budgeted to countywide DARE education at a savings of $214,413. DARE education in the unincorporated areas including the Corbett area can continue if done by patrol officers assigned to that responsibility.

Rationale:

1. Under Chief Moose, the City of Portland has started training its officers to teach DARE. The first twelve will be assigned to schools this fall, with many more to follow. The Chief's philosophy is that officers who teach DARE should be those who work in the community so they can do follow up work with the children they see in the classroom in the community. In the Parkrose area, the Portland police have been working in cooperation with the GREAT program. Currently the 3 DARE officers cover 38 schools countywide. Instead of DARE officers appearing briefly in so many schools, I believe a better approach is to link the officer that will be involved in the neighborhood with neighborhood schools and the Family Centers.

2. Gresham has been pursuing a similar philosophy which integrates school resource officers and DARE.

3. I have asked Commissioner Kelley to work with me and the Public Safety Council to develop a plan to address school safety. As part of this plan, the Council will address the appropriate roles and linkages between school liaison officers, school police, and DARE education.

WEST SIDE PATROL

Action Proposed:

Patrol on the unincorporated areas of the west side will be assumed by the City of Portland. The positions of the sworn officers assigned to that function will be transferred to the City at a savings of approximately $480,000. The County will negotiate fair compensation with the City of Portland by discussing sharing facilities appropriate for law enforcement.

Rationale:

1. Historically and in his submitted budget, the Sheriff has assigned a single car to west side patrol. The district is miles away from his other patrol responsibilities. He must regularly drive through large areas of incorporated City of Portland area to do that patrol. City officers are already in the heavily populated parts of the west side and already respond to priority calls.

2. With the completion of annexations in mid-county, the City of Portland will concentrate on completing annexations within the Urban Growth Boundary on the west side, resulting in a smaller district over time.

3. With the annexations, the City of Portland needs additional precinct space on the east side and mid-county. The Hansen Building offers an opportunity for co-location or lease to accommodate some of that need.

DUII

Action Proposed:

In his budget, the Sheriff has proposed to reassign two sworn officers to countywide DUII enforcement. My proposal assumes the philosophy that DUII enforcement is already a countywide function regularly performed by the officers. The two positions are scheduled to be transferred are included in the reductions in patrol.

Rationale:

1. Consistent, wide spread DUII enforcement is an important goal. However, it is best carried out by training patrol officers in the most effective DUII techniques and having the enforcement done regularly by all officers. Also the State Police will be increasing traffic patrol on I-84.

ENFORCEMENT RECORDS

Action Proposed:

The reduction of the enforcement records unit to correspond to reductions in patrol. Employees will be offered the option of transferring to the City of Portland to continue similar work or transferred within the County to other suitable employment. Approximately five positions are impacted at a savings of $190,000.

Rationale:

1. Declining patrol responsibilities translates into declining needs in enforcement records. Employees should be protected and offered options.

ADMINISTRATION

Action Proposed:

Proportional cuts in the Sheriff's administration. Certain required expenditures (e.g. BOEC) are maintained. Others, such as motor pool, can be reduced substantially. The Sheriff has identified the elimination of one Lieutenant position for a savings of $101,000. During the budget review, the Board can discuss other possible savings.

Rationale:

1. Declining patrol responsibilities translate into reduced administrative expenses.

COUNTY CHAIR'S PROPOSAL

Mission of Sheriff

1. Efficient and Effective Jail System
2. East Side Rural Patrol and Detectives
3. Contracts with Northeast Cities

5. Juvenile Diversion, District Coordinating Teams, Family Safety Education

Attachment to Group III Narcotics
FBI Concept Paper
April 22, 1993
Summary

Existing Enforcement Efforts

1. Current anti-drug enforcement efforts discharged by six area units:
  - a) Portland Police Bureau Drug and Vice Division (DVD)
  - b) Multnomah County Sheriff's Office Special Investigations Unit (SIU)
  - c) Regional Organized Crime and Narcotics (ROCN) Task Force
  - d) Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA)
  - e) Portland Area Interagency Narcotics Team (PAINT)
  - f) FBI Drug Task Force.
2. Each agency has its own investigative mission and priorities which have been established through organizational goals, crime problem assessment and community demands.
3. In total six units direct over 100 personnel against the drug problem in the Portland Metropolitan area.

Problems with Current Anti-Drug Enforcement Efforts

1. Investigative efforts are redundant, lack full cooperation and intelligence sharing is limited
2. Investigations overlap
3. Fragmented and compartmentalized intelligence
4. Simultaneous investigations which are detrimental to agencies
5. All above contributing to inefficient use of resources

Proposal

Create a single task force to enhance overall drug enforcement in the community by:

1. Providing one investigative entity for the community to turn to for service;
2. Facilitating intelligence sharing concerning drug matters;
3. Establishing coherent community-wide priorities and objectives in drug investigations;
4. Allowing a more consistent prosecutorial approach, state vis-a-vis federal;
5. Eliminating redundant and parallel investigations

Organization of Task Force

The proposed Task Force would be created by a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU). The Task Force would be responsible for all drug investigations with the exception of internal inquiries, corruption investigations, classified matters, and investigations of gangs or organizations where drug violations are only part of an overall criminal enterprise. The Task Force would have oversight provided by an Advisory Board and staffed by an Operations Coordinator and loaned investigative and prosecutorial personnel. Areas of drug responsibility would be defined by squads with the following missions:

Mission One: Enforcement of criminal and civil laws pertaining to base level drug trafficking and user population through investigations in high intensity drug trafficking areas (Old Town, North Portland, 82nd Ave., etc.), use of unique investigative techniques (reverses, vehicle seizures, maintenance of drug free zones, and targeting repeat low-level offenders for enhanced sentencing), accessing user population through other task force investigations, and providing community awareness. Mission would be conducted with day and night shifts. [DVD/SIU]

Mission Two: Target regional trafficking organizations focusing primarily on well entrenched groups with definable infrastructure, purpose, and objectives involved in the transportation and distribution of drugs and the laundering of illicit proceeds. [ROCN]

Mission Three: Identify, penetrate, and neutralize trafficking organizations national or international impact through long term investigations utilizing sensitive techniques to include undercover operations and electronic surveillance. Investigative targets would be based on controlled substance trafficked, national origin or organization structure. Determine and investigate violation of money laundering and financial statutes involving the proceeds of illicit drug trafficking activities. [DEA]

Mission Four: Same as above. [FBI]

Mission Five: Focus on vehicular and personal interdiction stops, seizures, and inquiries at area transportation terminals and interstate highway routes to disrupt drug trafficking patterns, identify organizational members, and intercept the transportation of drugs and illicit proceeds. [PAINT]

OUTLINE FOR COUNTY BUDGET HEARING
May 10, 1994

Support for Commissioner Stein:

- Proposed budget will not reduce police services in the County. A reallocation of the Sheriff's law enforcement staff, even with transfer of deputies, will still provide more sworn personnel than should be necessary to serve a remaining unincorporated population of approximately 25,925. Gresham supports Commissioner Stein's contention that there will still be adequate law enforcement resources in the Sheriff's Office to even continue providing support to the three smaller east county cities,
- Funding will be better utilized in prevention and social services to resolve identified problems. Domestic violence and juvenile outreach services would help enhance community policing efforts county-wide.

East County Cities Concern:

- With an approximate 50% reduction in population served by the Sheriff's law enforcement branch (due to the annexation by Portland), the Sheriff's remaining resources should be reallocated to provide better service to unincorporated east county, as well as provide investigative aid or other assistance as necessary to the smaller cities. Commissioner Stein's proposed reduction does not come close to a 50% reduction in the Sheriff's law enforcement budget - so how can there be a loss to the smaller cities. Even with the proposed transfer of deputies, the Sheriff's law enforcement staffing will still be at a level above most municipal urban department staff levels; as well as far above the average for all of the metropolitan sheriff's offices.

Elimination of County Drug Unit

- Transfer of the drug unit to Portland is the right step. As a majority of this unit's activities are focused in Portland, this is a duplication of effort at county-wide taxpayer expense. Gresham will approach drug problems through community policing solutions and through cooperative efforts with the Portland Police Bureau Drug Unit and ROCN.

D.A.R.E.

- Prevention efforts of this type should be provided by the governmental jurisdiction held accountable for other police services. This service is most effective when coordinated with other youth services (as in Gresham) such as Gang Enforcement and School Resource Officers. Coupling enforcement (patrol & gangs) with prevention (DARE & School Resource) results in better information sharing regarding youth activities and problems.

FACT SHEET
MULTNOMAH COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

MCSO ENFORCEMENT BRANCH

The MCSO Enforcement Branch staffing and budget includes both sworn and non-sworn staff. The following table details the staffing and budget of the Enforcement Branch as outlined in the MCSO's FY93-94 Adopted Budget.

Although not reflected in the table above, the Sheriff's adopted budget includes 8 full time employees in the Executive Branch and 38 full time employees in the Services Branch. The Executive and Services Branches support both the Corrections and Enforcement operations, and it is impossible to precisely identify what portion of the fiscal and staff resources are dedicated to which branch. However, it is reasonable to assume that a reduction in the Enforcement Branch could result in a reduction in the Executive and Services Branches without impacting the support of the Corrections Branch.

CITY OF GRESHAM FACTS

The following charts reflect calls for service in 1993 which generated the greatest need for police response in the City of Gresham.

As noted, miscellaneous disturbance and family disturbance type calls rank in the top four. These calls are exactly the type of call which are most likely to be resolved through domestic violence intervention and juvenile outreach services. Currently, the majority of family disturbance calls are resolved through referrals. Without adequate referral and intervention services Gresham's community policing efforts to resolve problems will be futile and resources will be used to respond to call after call for the same problem at the same address without any lasting resolution.

U.S. approach to job creation draws fire from progressives

■ The idea of replacing family-wage jobs with a greater number of low-paying positions doesn't sit well with many

By BARBARA PRESLEY NOBLE

New York Times News Service

OREGONIAN 6 MAY 94

Conventional wisdom tends to have a short life span.

As Labor Secretary Robert Reich observed at the Detroit jobs conference in March, just a few years ago the conventional wisdom was that Europe and Japan could do no wrong and had nothing to learn from and everything to teach the United States.

Now, the United States is doing everything right; Japan, and Europe, everything wrong. Under this theory, the contrast between Europe and the United States is especially vivid: while the former struggles with high unemployment and an expensive system of social insurance, the latter is creating jobs, lowering labor costs and slimming and toning its corporate infrastructure.

The current conventional wisdom came in for criticism last month at the International Seminar on Growth and Employment at Oxford University, a gathering of academics, activists, journalists and directors of progressive think tanks from the United States, Britain, Europe and Australia who came together to mull over politics and the impact of the globalization of markets.

The notion that what appears to be working for the United States as it crawls back to economic health — driving down wages for existing work and creating low-paid jobs — should be the prescription for Europe does not sit well with progressives.

More sympathy for people

They tend to be less inclined than those who have more faith in the wisdom of the markets to view the economic consequences to individuals of such a course as mere collateral damage.

As Jeff Faux, director of the Economic Policy Institute in Washington, argued in the paper he presented at Magdalen College, Oxford, "Both the so-called American model of low wages and high employment and the so-called European model of high wages and low employment are, in effect, models of how to allocate the pain — the pain of adjustment to the new, brutally competitive global economy."

One of the main flaws with pushing the American model as a solution to the problems posed by international competition, Faux contends, is that what many people believe about it is simply not true.

"There is the belief that the United States model has created job growth," Faux said at a briefing on the seminar late last month, a belief largely based on what he called misapprehensions about the Reagan-Bush years. It was, Faux told the seminar, a period "when deregulation took hold, business was encouraged to attack unions and the social safety net was shredded."

By several indicators, Faux argued, the United States didn't do well during the Reagan-Bush years. An Economic Policy Institute analysis of job and economic growth from 1979 to 1989, a period roughly coinciding with the Republican administrations, indicates that the country's per capita gross domestic product grew an average 1.5 percent a year, compared with 2.3 percent growth for the eight industrialized countries for which comparable data were available.

An increase in population, rather than any unique job-generating capacity, Faux wrote, accounted for respectable job growth from 1979 to 1989. And the real wages of production workers dropped in that period. After 1989, the economy declined, until 1993, when GDP growth began to pick up and finally to accelerate.

The cost of those alleged good years? Lower living standards for many and a quadrupling of the country's debt.

American households have coped with the decline in real wages and the erosion of their standard of living by putting more able bodies — mostly women — to work, taking on second and third jobs or acceding to the labor market and accepting temporary, contingent and lower-wage work.

Skeptics might argue that the country is emerging from its funk, even if at the expense of job security for some individual citizens. They might also note that the Clinton administration is taking a new direction, one clearly friendlier to, or at least more aware of, working people.

Some improvements admitted

Faux acknowledged some improvements, from a progressive point of view, over the previous administration. But he suggested that the current administration may have neither the political will nor the capital to move beyond some achievable but incremental economic initiatives.

In the world beyond the Beltway, individual citizens might well ask how long they are expected to bear the brunt of streamlining done in the hope that a lean economy will bring prosperity, as the United States plunges efficiently into new markets. No one in government or industry appears prepared to say.

The United States, along with most other industrialized nations, remains mesmerized, Faux argued, by the wrong question: "How do we compete in this new global economy?"

That, he believes, can be done by tinkering a little here and there, as nations do now. Let currency sink to make products more appealing, drop wages to increase market share in certain industries. Or choose between the low-wage/high-employment strategy or the high-wage/low-employment dichotomy and "beggars your neighbor."

The real question, he argued, should be, "How do we achieve full employment with real rising incomes?" That, Faux contended, is something industrialized nations must try to manage together, rather than by running each other into the ground. "No doubt many will view the idea of collective economic policy as utopian," he told the seminar. No doubt.

PIIAC REFORMS STALL IN STARTING GATE

Reforms to Portland's Police Internal Investigations Auditing Committee (PIIAC) proposed by Vera Katz passed unanimously through City Council in January. The measures themselves are little more than window dressing to cover the fact that police investigations into their colleagues' misconduct is inadequate (see PPR #1). Fortunately, a majority of Council (Mayor Katz, Commissioners Lindberg and Kafoury) pledged to revisit the issue once reforms have had a chance to kick in.

But now that the reforms are in place, PIIAC's Citizen Advisors seem to have even less of an idea of what to do. For example, several Advisors want to delay further complaint review until their full-time "independent investigator" is hired. However, the new plan does not call for an independent investigator, but a full-time staff person trained in investigation. While this seems like a semantic difference, it means that this full time staff person, like PIIAC, will not be allowed to investigate a case directly, but only to review Internal Investigations documents.

Beyond that, the earliest a staff person will be hired is July. We hope what little PIIAC is able to do under the current ordinance will not be postponed another 3 months.

Advisors are putting off implementing another part of the revised ordinance: community outreach. Some Advisors feel that going to 1 or 2 of their own neighborhood association meetings a year will be sufficient. But more needs to be done to show the public that civilians are overseeing police. PIIAC should visit as many neighborhoods, social service agencies, and community groups as possible.

To their credit, PIIAC Citizen Advisors have brought up the idea of holding their meetings in different neighborhoods to allow input from local residents.

The Citizen Advisors also put out a draft of their first quarterly report, a summary of 1993 activity. The report showers the Police Bureau with praise and leaves out tables which might allow easy comparison of data presented. However, the report brings up some very serious issues, including several cases of individuals being brought to Hooper Detox Center when they were not drunk. The report asserts that the people were brought to Detox simply for being rude to officers. POPSG has received two such complaints directly over the Copwatch line and heard of several others. There is obviously a problem here that needs to be addressed. If you have had an experience of being brought wrongfully to Detox (or to the psychiatric ward at Adventist Hospital), call Copwatch at 321-5120. We also encourage civilians to come hear the PIIAC quarterly report when it is presented before City Council on Wednesday, April 27 at 2 PM. We understand public testimony will be accepted.

A POLICE/SHERIFF MERGER:

WHAT ABOUT ACCOUNTABILITY?

The Multnomah County Sheriff's Office (MCSO) and Portland Police Bureau (PPB) have long shared local law enforcement duties. However, as the unincorporated portion of Multnomah County has diminished, so has the patrolling role of the Sheriff's Office. The number of deputies assigned to the street has shrunk to 39 (from 134 as recently as 1984 [WW]*). Today, the Sheriff's primary responsibility is to staff local correctional facilities.

In light of these changes and in the name of reducing the replication of services, many people are calling for a merger of the two agencies. Two years ago, the Governor convened a task force to study the issue. Mayor Katz has said she favors a merger, although she has not been specific on what it would look like. In Willamette Week, Chief Moose argued for merging the patrolling Sheriff's deputies into the PPB. An attempt to get an alternative merger proposal onto the May ballot -- which would have transferred all PPB budget and staff over to the County -- fell short by only several hundred signatures.

For citizens concerned about police accountability, the possibility of a merger raises a number of important questions. First, is it even a good idea to have only one police force responsible for law enforcement in our community? In WW, Sheriff Skipper pointed out that having two agencies creates accountability. As long as there are two agencies there can be competition among them to be the best provider and to have the best public image. At this level, they hold one another accountable and may even be inclined to share the other's shortcomings with the public.

While it might be best to avoid a merger altogether, it is likely that one will occur in the near future. If so, which of the two police forces should take over sole responsibility for law enforcement in Portland? Sponsors of the initiative to merge PPB into the Sheriff's Office argued that, unlike the Chief of Police, the Sheriff is an elected official and therefore directly accountable to the public. But the general public has enough trouble holding politicians, whose actions and votes are a matter of public record, accountable. Police forces are insular organizations which avoid, resist, and deflect scrutiny from the general public, unless involved in an indisputable incident (like the LAPD in the Rodney King beating).

Even an elected Sheriff, as the head of an insular organization, can resist having to justify his or her department to civilians. Borrowing from national police forces, he or she can adopt a non-explanation similar to "it's a matter of national security." Furthermore, as an elected official, the Sheriff is not particularly accountable to other political representatives at the County level. The County Board does have say on the Sheriff's Office budget. But if the Sheriff is a good politician who creates a positive public image, elected Commissioners will hesitate to use the budget axe as a way of holding him or her accountable. As Sheriff Bob Skipper said, "I am an independent, elected official, I answer to the public. I don't answer to other politicians." (WW, p. 20). The politicians he won't answer to are the Multnomah County Commissioners-- "the elected officials who should ask Skipper the tough questions." (WW, p. 20)

The Mayor and other elected officials of the City of Portland do have some power to hold the Portland Police Bureau and its Chief accountable. The Chief, of course, does not have the threat of being ousted by angry voters, since he or she is appointed by the Mayor. Community policing advocates argue that the PPB is also held accountable through institutions like the Chief's Forum and Community Policing Liaison Officers. Additionally, the PPB is subject to limited oversight by the Citizen Advisors to the Police Internal Investigations Auditing Committee. For its multiple faults, the committee does provide a very small window into the operations of the Bureau.

The MCSO has no civilian review process. Investigations into misconduct claims are reviewed by a complaint board made up of Sheriff's deputies. Some argue that the MCSO is extremely hard on itself in terms of internal affairs and that it does not need civilian oversight. We at POPSG have no way of knowing if this is true. We have, however, received several Copwatch complaint calls about Sheriff's Deputies in the corrections facilities. So while they may be rigorous in their internal investigations today, without civilian participation in the process, we have no way of knowing whether they will be tomorrow.

From the perspective of accountability, the civilians of Portland and Multnomah County may be best served if no merger of the MCSO and PPB takes place. We benefit if the two agencies are competing with one another for our trust. But in any case, to achieve real accountability the public must continue to work toward better civilian oversight and a more meaningful community policing partnership, whether it is with the PPB, the MCSO, or both.

PORTLAND PAYS SHOOTING VICTIM $100K+

Gerald Gratton, the police shooting victim hit by three of 27 bullets after being chased off a #4 Tri-Met Bus, was awarded $118,000 by City Council in early March. The officer who fired 23 of the shots was fired last October. We applaud these actions, but has justice been done? We plan to find out if any training or hiring practices were changed as a result of the incident.

Now that PIIAC is including Risk Management figures in their quarterly reports, they will get to look over many cases which don't go through IID. These are cases the City considers serious enough of a problem to pay off the complainant. From this, we hope they will spot trends which may lead to policy changes in the bureau, and fewer cases like Gerald Gratton's.

PORTLAND: COMMUNITY POLICING CAPITAL OF THE U.S.?

Portland is apparently becoming a national model for successful community policing despite the fact that, in terms of accountability, the five year old Community Policing Initiative has failed to fulfill its promise. Nonetheless, other cities are looking to Portland for guidance.

In late February, Mayor Martin Chavez of Albuquerque, NM, visited Portland and returned home convinced that community policing was right for his comparably sized city. On March 6, the Albuquerque Journal ran stories quoting Mayor Katz, Chief Moose, Roger Morse and others exalting the struggles and successes in implementing community policing. The Journal pointed out that Mayor Chavez was persuaded by the facts that Portland's crime rate has leveled off over the past 5 years, the public feels safer today than 4 years ago, and the approval rating of the PPB is higher than it has been in years.

The first measure, crime rate, has not, to our knowledge, been linked statistically to the implementation of community policing. And a similar leveling off of crime has occurred nationally over the past 5 years. The other two measures are subjective and could well be the result of one of community policing's biggest accomplishments — an effective public relations strategy.

The article also points out, but does not analyze, the financial cost of community policing. Albuquerque and Portland, while similar in size, have vast disparities in their police budgets. Portland spends about $90 million annually vs. Albuquerque's $56 million. Mayor Chavez is prepared to make the investment. But wouldn't an additional $30 million a year spent on education, job training, and youth programming have a bigger long term effect on Portland's crime rate and community health than community policing has?

There are other issues that Chavez and others who are jumping onto the community policing bandwagon are not considering—or at least not discussing. Community policing has social costs that may outweigh its benefits.

First, the police's role is extended into the realm of social service provision. Officers are made to play critical societal roles for which they are not trained. Police who apply coercive enforcement strategies in situations that require constructive dialogue and supportive interaction undermine the health of communities.

Secondly, community policing risks deprofessionalizing the police. By encouraging the bureau to build relationships with "the community," we may actually create relationships between the police and select members of the community, e.g. business associations and property owners. This does not facilitate the equal protection of all by the police, nor does it promise an equitable approach to determining enforcement strategies.

Finally, the language of community policing can be used to lessen the degree of real accountability to the public and to undermine the efforts of advocates seeking to

A resident of the Brentwood-Darlington neighborhood, whose community policing officer is being removed, said, "(It) really worked here. They were arresting people on a first-name basis."

--The Albuquerque Journal, 3/6/94

establish such measures as civilian review boards. According to Vecinos United, a New Mexico based advocacy group, Chavez sees community policing as an alternative to establishing an effective civilian review process. In Portland, POPSG's work to improve civilian review is made more difficult by police and city public relations efforts aimed at creating an image of accountability while the public is, in fact, largely shut out from the process.

As Portland is held up as a national model for community policing and other cities scramble to sign on, we should be clear that community policing has both heavy monetary and social costs.

REPORT ON NATIONAL POLICE ACCOUNTABILITY WEEK

On Feb. 27, to begin National Police Accountability Week, POPSG held a Speakout and Concert at the Clinton Street Theater featuring Häsenpfeffer, Simmons/Rose, and Soul Rhythm Soldiers. The crowd was thin, but the spirit was right as a half-dozen groups working on aspects of police accountability (POPSG, National Lawyers Guild, American Anti-Prohibition League, Radical Women, Alliance to Protect & Defend Civil Liberties, Amnesty International) and about as many police misconduct victims made issue of coming together as a community to demand accountability.

Particular note was made of police mistreatment of the mentally ill. Also, the family of a police shooting victim spoke out. The closing hip-hop music by Soul Rhythm Soldiers (100% non-violent, 100% non-racist, and 100% hard) worked the crowd up until a fuse blew, so they finished singing to the beat of the audience clapping in the dark.

"The People's Police Report" is published quarterly by People Overseeing Police Study Group (POPSG), a civilian group promoting police accountability through citizen action. ## ACCOUNTABILITY WEEK (cont'd)

Many thanks to all who made the event possible. Other events were held in Berkeley, CA, Chicago, IL, and around the country.

Meanwhile, Mayor Katz and her aides were reluctant to introduce legislation that week for tracking all deaths caused by police or occurring in police custody. They want to wait until a national database is created. Since the National Interreligious Task Force on Criminal Justice was introducing such legislation simultaneously, we found ourselves in a catch-22. We will continue to work on this issue; please call us if you are interested.

COPWATCH FOLLOWUP YIELDS DEPRESSING RESULTS

Portland Copwatch volunteers recently went through 1993 files and followed up on complaints initiated last year. Many complainants had moved or were unavailable, but we did reach nearly 1/3 of the callers. With very little exception, we found that people had run up against bureaucracy at Internal Investigations or at City Hall which made them want to "put it all behind them."

We urge victims of police misconduct to come together and change how things work. The system often makes victims feel as though they have done something wrong, but that is usually not the case. In the same way people play down Rodney King's beating by pointing out his criminal and drug record, people assume victims of police misconduct "deserve it." But we all have the same civil rights, even those with criminal records. Nobody deserves to be treated rudely, roughly, or unfairly by agents of the government.

Portland Copwatch continues taking informational calls, and has compiled a list of lawyers for callers to contact if they desire.

We plan to expand in 2 ways:

1. Help people through the process of filing with IID (appealing to PIIAC if appropriate); point them to lawyers who can help them file a lawsuit; or help them make issue of their case in the media (the Seattle Model); and

2. Get out on the streets to "Copwatch" with clipboards, scanners, camcorders, still cameras, and copies of the ORS and the General Orders. (the Berkeley model)

One reason we haven't yet begun these programs: we need committed volunteers. If any of the above interests you, call us and we'll let you know when we begin organizing!

MORE REFLECTIONS FROM REPRESENTATIVES OF OUR COMMUNITY POLICE

This cartoon appeared exactly as you see it in February's Rap Sheet. You see "Portland's Law Enforcement" represented by a large boxer, whose hand is tied down by a rope labelled "PIIAC." Is this the image of Community Policing being trumpeted around the nation?

Who's more morbid?: Rap Sheet Editor Jeff Barker, whose comments we featured in the last issue, took some swipes at a new target in February: community activist T.J. Browning. Browning helped form the Nathan McMurray Thomas Memorial Trust shortly after the 12 year old was accidentally killed when police fired at the man who took Thomas hostage. In January, Browning made the mistake of calling for a strong civilian oversight process for Portland's Police. This was her reward:

A short time after the death of Nathan Thomas, ...T.J. Browning appeared before the PPA asking for funds to build a soccer field in Nathan's memory. The PPA contributed & T.J. seemed to like the lure of media attention.

Since that time she has taken on the public role as a police basher and it is embarrassing to see her figuratively drag out the coffin of little Nathan to perform her song and dance.

The decline of civilization?: Barker retread old ground by referring to PIIAC member Emily Simon as "a bitter and unhappy person." He wondered whether Simon and two other "criminal defense attorneys" on PIIAC's Citizen Advisory are:

...trying to back the police into a corner so the police will find it is too much trouble to arrest criminals? Will we be reduced to just being report-takers, turning our collective backs on proactive police work and allowing the criminal element to once again become firmly established in their drug trade and other criminal enterprises? ...If they win and we lose, Portland will rot from the inside like many of the country's other cities.

The extent of the exaggeration of these fears is evident when you consider (a) PIIAC's caseload against IID's (15 vs. 400 cases a year), (b) the types of cases PIIAC reviews, and (c) the low number of cases which ever get returned to IID for further investigation.

Fact checking: Barker's continuing disregard for reporting facts resurfaced when he referred to media activist Paul Richmond "of Flying Focus Video." Had Barker done any research at all, he would have known that Richmond stopped working with that group over two years ago.

To his credit, Barker discussed the huge new fines for traffic violations, noting that the public vents anger at the police when they get a ticket, rather than the legislators who set the fines. "Some officers believe the bails are so excessive they are no longer willing to write traffic citations."

Later in the same article, he reminisced about days of old when he would help motorists change their tires. He turns around on modern concepts, wondering: Is changing a citizen's tire considered Community Policing?

Well, I didn't get a four for six overtime shot for my 15 minutes, so the Community Policing purists would probably say not. Maybe it was just old-fashioned police work.

We'll keep you up to date on what the official union newspaper of Portland's rank-and-file has to say, or you can subscribe to it for $10 a year by writing Portland Police Association, 808 SE 19th, Portland, OR 97214.

Si la policía quiere examinarle, solo puede tocarle el exterior de su ropa para verificar si usted está llevando una arma. Es preciso decir a la policía que no tiene su consentimiento para una examinación mas completa. Si la policía le dice que tiene mandato para examinarle o arrestarle, pídelo. Si la policía esta examinando su cas o su vehículo con "causa probable" (un sospecho fuerte) explíquele que no tiene su consentimiento para examinarle.

Si la policía le arresta, no tiene que responder a ninguna pregunta salvo identificarse. No le de excusas o explicaciones. Todo lo que usted dice puede ser utilizado contra uste. Solo diga "yo quiero hablar con mi abogado" (I want to speak with my lawyer). Si usted no tiene abogado pide a la policía como contactar a un abogado (el estado tiene que proveer un abogado gratis a personas acusadas sin dinero).

Si ud. está Vigilando a La Policía (Copwatching), tenga cuidado a que la policía sepa que usted no tiene la intención de entrometerse con el arresto. Eso significa quedarse a una distancia mínima de diez pies (tres metros) y no distraer ni a la policía ni al arrestado.

Si es víctima de mala conducta de la policía usted debe tratar de obtener los nombres de todos los agentes de policía involucrados, y si posible los nombres de sus superiores. Si hay testigos también es importante obtener sus nombres y números de teléfono.

SUBJECT: Follow Up Items from the Work Sessions on May 9, May 10 and May 12

Attached is a list of items about which the Board of Commissioners would like additional information.

Please prepare a memo answering the Board's questions. I suggest that the responses state the question, and then state the response. The response may be a reference to an attached document.

I have two requests to make about the responses:

1. Please respond to all the questions by Friday, May 20. I realize that answers to several of the requests on the list will not be available by May 20. However, you will probably have a reasonable idea of when the answers will be available. The response to these items could be to say when the research is expected to be complete.

For example, the question asked of the Sheriff's Office on May 10, to prepare an analysis of the need for additional beds in the corrections system, strikes me as something that will require a large scale process of its own, leading to a separate policy discussion by the Board. My suggestion is to respond to questions of this type by describing a process you might follow to bring the issue back to the Board with some estimate of when that might be possible.

2. Please help us keep track of the responses. Send them to the Budget Office. We will copy them, attach a sequentially numbered cover sheet that will help the Board be sure that they are getting all the packets of information, and distribute them to the Commissioners and the Clerk of the Board.

Let me know if you have further suggestions.

Follow Up Items from the May 9 budget work session:

AGING SERVICES

1. Ethnic clients - Discuss the strategies for serving ethnic populations. The strategy used by Aging Services is to enhance outreach functions and attempt to draw ethnic populations into the service system in place for all residents. The strategy proposed in Community and Family Services is to fund ethnic specific services for Asian clients and Hispanic clients as a gateway into the service system.
2. District Centers - Explain the formulas used to determine the funding levels for each district center.
3. East County services - Although Aging Services has projected Older Americans Act revenue as a funding source to expand case management services to east county residents, the Board is interested in the implications of adding $30,000 for case management from the General Fund with the possibility of recalling that support if Federal money becomes available.
4. Adult Care Homes - The Health Department has indicated their intention of reducing 0.5 Sanitarian originally funded with Title XIX revenue from Aging Services. How are food services in adult care homes going to be inspected?
5. Adult Care Home Resident Activities - Suggest alternative ways to provide activities to foster home residents, e.g., transportation to senior centers, neighborhood involvement, volunteer networks, etc.
6. Transportation - Explore the entire issue of transportation, including the adequacy of public transportation resources to satisfy the demands placed on them, and coordinate a multi-jurisdictional hearing (including Tri-Met) to explore this issue. Report on using taxi service instead of Tri Met as the primary provider of transportation. Also report on the alternative strategies used in the past.
7. Nutrition - Discuss the possible coordination of nutrition programs with OSU Extension nutrition programs.
8. Ethnic Services - Discuss the relationship between the number and percent of clients who belong to ethnic populations and the percent and amount of spending devoted solely to ethnic populations. Provide the same information for the frail elderly.
9. District Center - Compare the results and costs of the YWCA contract with the results and costs of providing the services with County staff.

COMMUNITY AND FAMILY SERVICES

11. Ethnic clients - Discuss the strategies for serving ethnic populations. The strategy used by Aging Services is to enhance outreach functions and attempt to draw ethnic
