TO: Commissioners for Gresham, Portland and Multnomah County

DATE: September 23, 1991

SUBJECT: Recommendations of the Process & Ongoing Collaboration Subcommittee

We met on September 12 to discuss how best to advance long-range strategies for joint government collaboration. It became apparent that the key to ongoing success lies in the foundation we establish now as we begin the meetings scheduled through this Fall.

We suggest that the first portion of the October 3 meeting be devoted to establishing that foundation -- a commonly agreed-upon direction for our three governments, perhaps captured and adopted in Resolution form. From there we will have a comprehensive way of making immediate decisions about how particular services are most appropriately provided. We will also have the framework for future collaborative efforts.

We have a document of significance to these discussions, Resolution A. (Attached). We believe it can be updated and improved to meet the needs of our governments today. We hope that by the conclusion of the discussion on October 3, we will have the framework and substance for a "Resolution B" that will guide the service discussions that follow.

We suggest developing the foundation in the following way.

First, there are environmental circumstances that form the context for our discussions. We should briefly identify them. For example:

- eroding public confidence in government
- growth of Gresham
- annexation of mid-county
- reduction of county urban service responsibilities
- growth in county human and justice service responsibilities
- measure 5 and need for increased efficiencies and equitable funding strategies

Second, we believe we can reach good, though perhaps imperfect, decisions about the appropriate provider(s) of services if we proceed with the following values in mind:

- efficiency (avoid duplication & save money)
- preserve/ improve quality of service
- promote local control
- promote regional responsibilities
- accountability
- accessibility
- equitable funding

Third, it is essential that any realignment of responsibilities among our governments must result in the following:

- balance so that each government has a balanced portfolio of responsibilities and the resources to meet them
- a spirit of cooperation and an expectation of on-going collaboration
- results that strengthen all governments in ability to perform core services

Fourth, each government provides core services. We should identify them together. For example, core municipal services could include:

- police
- fire
- water
- sewers
- streets
- neighborhood parks
- land use planning/ adjudication
- housing inspection/ permit

Core county services could include:

- human services
- public health
- corrections (adult & juvenile)
- libraries
- assessment & tax collection
- elections
- other statutory mandates

Regional services presently include:

- zoo
- solid waste
- regional land use/ urban growth planning
- transportation planning

Fifth, there will remain a few services that our governments provide that are not within our core functions. Not surprisingly, the contention among us often arises in these service areas. For the county, this category includes municipal services the county provides to the shrinking unincorporated area, such as land use planning and police patrol, and in the services the county provides almost exclusively to urban areas, such as enhanced animal control and public inebriate services. There are also services that we provide transitionally while waiting for a regional authority to assume responsibility. Regional parks are an example. In addition, there are services that overlap among jurisdictions and would appear to benefit from merger or at least more deliberate coordination. Cable regulation, emergency management, housing and administrative services are among such examples.

The seven services we identified at our first meeting as requiring immediate attention -- animal control, cable, emergency management, law enforcement, land use planning, roads, and administrative services -- fall into this much debated category, for obvious reasons. The first two -- animal control and cable -- are not exclusively within the core functions of any one government. Emergency management, though a county function by state mandate, has been replicated within the municipalities. Law enforcement and land use planning are services the county continues to provide for the most part only to the unincorporated areas. Finally, the division of road responsibility in east county reflects an earlier time before Gresham grew in population and territory.

We do not suggest that governments can provide no more than core services, or that cities and counties may not provide the same, similar or complementary core services. The goal of our joint meetings is to decide how to provide the best service by the most appropriate level of government at the lowest cost. What service is "best", what government is the most "appropriate" and how to determine "lowest cost" are measures we still need to develop.

The three of us attempted to apply the analysis laid out above, remaining aware that all values (such as conflict between local control and regional responsibility) have not been fully examined or addressed. We suggest the following realignments, not to prejudge outcomes in advance of information, but rather to continue the direction setting that has already occurred over the past decade in these service areas (and for which much background analyses already exists):

1. Transfer county operational roads and bridges responsibilities to Gresham and Portland. Develop assurances about quality of service and reasonable costs for remaining county and east city roads. Strengthen the regional transportation planning process.
2. Transfer mid-county police patrol responsibilities to Gresham and Portland in advance of annexation. Examine cost savings of transferring full law enforcement function from county to cities. Convene a Task Force to review and recommend models for greater coordination, specialization, cost savings and/or mergers in county-wide law enforcement.
3. Continue to support the CHAS housing initiative. Identify opportunities to integrate housing and supportive human services among CHAS, non-profit groups, financial institutions and government entities, to meet housing needs for transitional, special needs, emergency shelter, homeless and low income groups.
4. Continue county provided animal control services at levels exceeding a basic public health function by billing cities for their share of use of such services.
5. Transfer funding responsibilities for inebriate pick-up and sobering services from the county to the City of Portland.
6. Formalize existing coordination agreements among jurisdictions in emergency management planning; take necessary first steps to consolidate all jurisdictions' planning responsibilities with goal of region-wide planning.
7. Consolidate staffing for the two cable commissions; plan to merge the two commissions with the goal, at the expiration of contracts, of a single franchise county-wide.
8. Transfer responsibilities and funding for land use planning from the county to the City of Portland. Develop assurances about maintenance of current level of service to rural Multnomah County.

After updated analyses it may become obvious that a particular initiative is too costly or cumbersome or fails to meet necessary criteria. We believe that even with the best proposals, the larger recurring concerns of local control, regional responsibility and equitable funding will remain.

Nonetheless, we believe we can and should signal appropriate realignments, so that we can direct staff to prepare the most comprehensive information on implementation, timelines, costs, and issues remaining to be addressed.

Even more important than the immediate service discussions, we believe, are the agreements we reach now to work collaboratively and think creatively on issues that cross our jurisdictional and functional lines. Private and public entities in addition to ourselves may need to be involved. We have identified three areas in which ongoing cooperation can be encouraged and enhanced:

- housing (the spectrum of emergency to affordable)
- justice services (the range from prevention to corrections)
- taxation

We will report back to you at a later time on what is happening and what may be possible for cooperation in these three areas.

Re: Revisions to Joint Government Meeting Proposal and
Procedural Considerations for October 3rd Meeting

Date: September 27, 1991

Each of us has discussed the September 23rd Joint Government Draft Proposal with our colleagues. We then met on September 26th. This memo suggests revisions to the September 23rd draft and proposes procedures designed to maximize the progress which we believe can be made at our Thursday, October 3rd meeting.

Revisions to Draft Proposal

Given certain alterations, there appears to be a solid majority on the Gresham City Council, the Portland City Council and the Multnomah County Commission for the draft proposal circulated to you earlier this week.

The most significant change is in item 2 on page 4, the discussion of law enforcement responsibilities. The following language would be substituted:

The three major police forces which now provide law enforcement services in Multnomah County--the Portland City Police (PPD), the Gresham City Police (GPD), and the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office (MCSO)--will be consolidated into either two forces or one force through a two step process.

Step 1: The County will stop providing police patrols in unincorporated Multnomah County. The provision of these services will be contracted to another appropriate police agency.

Step 2: Two full proposals will be developed analyzing the operational and fiscal implications of consolidation of one or two of the existing police agencies. The first proposal would focus on the completely eliminating of the policing functions of MCSO, dividing those responsibilities between PPD and GPD. The second proposal would focus on consolidating all three agencies into one.

Commissioner Pauline Anderson is circulating an alternate proposal relating to roads and bridges. She is circulating her suggestion to all participants before the October 3rd meeting.

A major concern raised by several individuals at several points in the draft proposal related to "accountability". The issue involves the ability of citizens to redress their elected officials when the government actually providing a service is not their government. For example, how is a citizen of unincorporated Multnomah County assured access to decisions concerning their police services when that service is being provide, through contract, by the PPD? This issue will need to be resolved as the detailed proposals in each area are developed.

Other suggested wording changes, clarifications and corrections are relatively minor in nature and can be discussed at the October 3rd meeting.

Procedures for October 3rd Meeting

There was general agreement about the process discussed in the draft proposal. In sum, the overall process will involve preliminary decisions by the Joint Government Group on the seven areas identified at our September 4th meeting, development of detailed proposals for the implementation of each of those decisions, and, based on that information, final ratification of the decisions and implementation plans by each of the governments involved.

To that end, we propose the following agenda for the October 3rd meeting.

1. Discussion of the environmental factors, value statements, and core service responsibilities described in the September 23rd draft. We will need to decide if and how this framework should be formalized--e. g. adoption of a Resolution B.
2. Preliminary decisions on the seven items identified at our first meeting. Assignment to work groups of the responsibility to develop detailed plans and timelines for implementing the decisions.
3. Discussion of methods for dealing with the "cross-cutting" issues (e.g. housing and criminal justice), the responsibility for which will continue to be vested in more than one government.
4. Presentation by staff and discussion of their preliminary work on "roads and bridges".

We are assuming while meeting as the Joint Government Group, our first attempt will be to make decisions by consensus. When that proves impractical, each governing body will need to indicate if there is majority support for a certain decision.

years (Resolution A) )

WHEREAS, the Board of County Commissioners is considering the mission and purpose of Multnomah County; and

WHEREAS, the 150,000 persons currently residing within Multnomah County's urban growth boundary outside incorporated cities require long-range planning for services; and

WHEREAS, it is in the public interest to clearly express the County's mission regarding providing services in mid-Multnomah County; and

WHEREAS, Multnomah County's resources are insufficient to continue current service levels and the government is facing a significant revenue shortfall of approximately $14 million in general resources for FY 1983-84; and

WHEREAS, the first priority for the available resources of Multnomah County shall be for those services available to all residents of the County, such as Assessment and Taxation, Elections, Corrections, Libraries and Health Services; and

WHEREAS, "municipal services" is defined as governmental services usually provided by city governments and shall include but not be limited to police service, neighborhood parks, and land-use planning and permits, "urban" shall be defined as governmental service comparable in quantity and quality to incorporated municipalities, and "rural" shall be defined as governmental service comparable in quantity and quality to unincorporated service areas outside urban growth boundaries.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that County services generally described as "municipal services" at a level considered "urban" rather than "rural" shall be proportionately reduced starting FY 1983-84 through FY 1986-87 to establish a minimal and essentially rural level of municipal services throughout Multnomah County.

Dear Gladys:

Thank you for your letter informing us of your decision to appoint a committee to advise you on whether to form a committee to study City/County consolidation.

In an earlier letter, I mentioned some problems regarding the state statutes that set the legal parameters for consolidation of governments. Again, I would like to point out that without changes in the state statutes, cost savings are not possible via consolidation of governments.

I've enclosed a copy of the statutes which states that the number of employees cannot be decreased nor can the level of positions be diminished after consolidation. In addition, the new city/county cannot have a tax base LESS than the combination of all jurisdictions. Under Measure 5 this means all other cities have to compete with Portland as well as the County for the $10 allowed under Measure 5 for non-school entities.

Please pass this information on to your committee.

Thank you.

Yours truly,

GUSSIE MCROBERT

RE: Portland/Gresham/Multnomah County Meeting Issue

Since City/County consolidation of governments, as well as services, is now being openly considered by Multnomah County, I thought a second look at some of the issues might be in order. Parts of the statutes dealing with combined tax bases and status of employees pose major problems for financing services.

Issue A - Oregon statutes (Chapter 20: 199.75.705), 1971, City/County consolidation, require the new City/County to have a new tax base NOT LESS THAN the combined tax bases of those jurisdictions entering into the agreement. What is the implication of Measure 5's $10 lid on non-school governments with a combined Portland and Multnomah County tax base? Will other jurisdictions then have to compete with Portland's tax rate as well as Multnomah County's under Measure 5? To require same tax base eliminates the possibility of reducing the cost of delivering services and defeats the purpose of consolidation.

Possible Solutions:

1. Clarifying legislation or litigation regarding Measure 5 and City/County consolidation statutory limits.
2. If not possible to change statutes, change jurisdictional boundaries:
  - a. Fairview, Gresham, Maywood Park, Troutdale and Wood Village stay independent with much reduced capacity to deliver services. We need to look at each city's share of the $10 lid with Portland/County combined.
  - b. Fairview, Gresham, Maywood Park, Troutdale and Wood Village join the new City/County to take advantage of Portland's assessed value. Would the larger pie make up for our smaller piece?
  - c. Fairview, Gresham, Maywood Park, Troutdale and Wood Village, as a group or individually, vote to join Clackamas County or form a new county.

Issue B - Cannot reduce number or status of employees under ORS 199.705 to 199.775. This makes it very difficult if not impossible to save money through consolidation of governments.

Possible solutions:

1. Legislation that would allow reducing number of employees and levels of position.

Issue C - State land use laws, passed in 1974, require urban growth to take place inside urban growth boundaries. This raises equity issues regarding level of taxes for those areas outside the UGB which will never have the same level of services as those in urban areas.

Possible solutions:

1. Clarifying legislation or litigation to clarify whether Measure 5 restricts ability to establish districts on the basis of services.

if more than half of the population in the city is located outside the county immediately before the consolidation.

(2) No boundary change effected under ORS 199.705 to 199.775 shall:

(a) Change the boundaries of a legislative district established by state law

(b) Deprive any member of the Legislative Assembly of the member's seat in that body. [1971 c.731 §12]

199.765 Tax base; effect of consolidation on continuing levies. (1) The charter for a city-county shall specify the initial tax base for the city-county within the meaning of section 11, Article XI of the Oregon Constitution which shall be not less than the sum of the existing tax bases of the most populous city, the county and all special districts automatically extinguished under ORS 222.510 or by ORS 199.705 to 199.775. To raise the revenue authorized within the initial tax base and provide for the administration of differential taxation, the charter may establish districts on the basis of services to be provided by the city-county and prescribe a formula for computing different tax rates for the different districts. The charter shall provide procedure for modification or dissolution of such districts and for changing such tax rate formula, after the first fiscal year in which the city-county levies taxes.

(2) The charter of the city-county may provide that any serial tax levy previously authorized under ORS 280.060 and any continuing tax levy authorized prior to July 21, 1953, and meeting the qualifications of ORS 310.125 by the electors of any consolidating, merging or extinguished government shall continue as if the consolidation had not occurred. The governing body of the city-county may exercise whatever taxing power is thus continued. [1971 c.731 §13; 1973 c.431 §1]

199.770 Status of employees after consolidation. After a consolidation is effected under ORS 199.705 to 199.775, there shall be preserved and continued, to at least the same extent as they exist at the time immediately before the city-county comes into existence, the employment status and pension and other benefit rights of the employees of the consolidating, merging or extinguished governmental units, including, but not limited to:

(1) Rights, privileges and benefits, including pensions and pension rights and benefits existing under collective bargaining agreements or otherwise.

(2) Collective bargaining rights.

(3) Protection of individual employees against a worsening of their positions with respect to their employment.

(4) Employment of persons employed immediately prior to the time the city-county comes into existence by the units.

(5) Priority as of the time immediately before the city-county comes into existence, of reemployment of employees of the units who have previously been laid off or had their employment terminated.

(6) Paid training or retraining programs for any employee of a unit whose position or job is eliminated by the consolidation, merger or extinction, or by any subsequent administrative reorganization in the city-county. [1971 c.731 §14; 1973 c.431 §5]

199.775 Effect of city-county incorporation. (1) When a city-county is incorporated, it shall:

(a) Succeed to all the property, contracts and rights of the consolidating cities and county; and

(b) Subject to whatever debt distribution plan the city-county charter prescribes, become liable for all the obligations of the consolidating cities and county.

(2) The officers of the consolidating cities and county shall forthwith deliver to the city-county officers the assets and records of the consolidating cities and county. Uncollected taxes theretofore levied by the consolidating cities and county shall become the property of the city-county upon collection.

(3) Immediately after the effective date of the county boundary changes effected under ORS 199.760, the officers of the city-county and of adjoining counties that the boundary changes affect shall transfer public records, buildings and property in accordance with ORS chapter 202.

(4) ORS 222.510 applies to any district mentioned in that section whenever the entire area of such a district is included within the boundaries of a city-county, as described under ORS 199.760, for either county or city functions. [1971 c.731 §15; 1973 c.431 §6]

Re: Proposals for Joint Public Safety System and Unified Transportation System

Since our first joint meeting, I have been thinking about the best system for law enforcement and transportation. Measure 5 and these discussions provide a unique opportunity for us to take innovative, courageous steps to improve the service delivery to our citizens.

With the following proposals, I am trying to think through the best service delivery system, while recognizing the need for local control in some areas and a forward look to eventual regionalization in others.

In response to the September 23 memo from Commissioners Bauman and Kafoury and Mayor McRoberts, I appreciate their attempt to package a number of issues together. However, I do not believe that we should adopt their approach until we explore other proposals.

Because I have been confused about how proposals would come to the group - I thought the Work Group would be forwarding several options - I am circulating two of mine now in an attempt to ensure that you keep an open mind on these issues before our meetings and that you are aware of other possibilities.

I believe the best process to follow in evaluating these proposals is to form Work Groups with representation from all key areas. The Board of County Commissioners has approved the formation of a Police Services Work Group (Multnomah County Board resolution 91-118 on 8-15-91 - copy enclosed).

I am open to other possibilities for the membership in the Work Group that would guarantee a fair hearing.

A similar Work Group should be formed to evaluate the Unified Transportation System proposal and alternatives. Because of the technical nature of the issues involved, I would suggest that we invite operational transportation personnel from the local area to assist our transportation Managers in the evaluation. A possible group would include Transportation personnel from the following agencies:

Managers from Portland, Gresham, and Multnomah County
Oregon Department of Transportation
Washington and Clackamas County
Metro
Tri Met
Port of Portland
Informed Citizens

All of these agencies have a personal and professional interest in seeing that we have the best possible transportation agency throughout the County.

Finally, I am suggesting some alternative language to the September 23 memo in the following areas. This language expresses our willingness to explore options in these areas:

Roads: Explore models of consolidated transportation planning, roads and bridge maintenance. Seek cost efficiencies, equitable service standards, rational county wide capital priority setting, and consensual budgeting, planning and decisions making.

Law Enforcement: Convene a multi-jurisdictional police services planning group. Review and recommend models for greater coordination, specialization, cost savings, and/or mergers in county wide law enforcement. Have County phase out of mid-county police patrol responsibilities.

Finally, I believe we may be willing to take a slightly different approach in another area mentioned in the September 23 memo:

Emergency Management: Consolidate jurisdictions' emergency management planning responsibilities with the goal of region-wide planning.

I look forward to the opportunity to present these ideas and to hearing your thoughts on the options proposed.

PROPOSAL FOR A UNIFIED TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM

PRINCIPLES

1. Promote cost efficient government by consolidating administrative and operational activities in the County, Portland, Gresham and the East County cities.
2. Develop central, consensual planning and decision making by involving all affected jurisdictions.
3. Promote cost efficient government by centrally purchasing equipment and materials and fully using existing maintenance facilities
4. Provide equitable services to citizens by developing uniform road maintenance standards
5. Maximize the efficient use of available resources by consolidating existing transportation revenues

IMPLEMENTATION

1. Establish a Joint Transportation and Road Maintenance Bureau

Duties of the Bureau:

- a. Maintenance of arterials and local streets.
- b. Maintenance of Willamette River Bridges.

How the Bureau would operate

- a. Have government employees do routine maintenance work
- b. Contract for major maintenance and capital construction projects.
- c. Use existing Stanton and Yeon shops.
- d. Centrally purchase capital equipment and materials.
- e. Pool existing road maintenance equipment
- f. Provide planning capability for other countywide transportation issues

- b. Establish Long Term Capital Construction Plan.
- c. Recommend budgets to their jurisdictions that reflect the maintenance and capital construction priorities.
- d. Present unified countywide transportation priorities to JPACT.

IMPACTS

1. Central planning, uniform standards, and pooling of financial resources and equipment should equalize the maintenance standard of roads county wide. There should be a reduced backlog of deferred maintenance, primarily in the City of Portland.
2. Establishing capital construction projects on county wide need basis should result in a more rational allocation of scarce transportation dollars.
3. Pooling staff, equipment and materials should result in savings in administration and purchases.
4. The Policy Committee deliberations should provide a more public forum for discussing countywide maintenance and construction needs.
5. A unified countywide approach to transportation issues and priorities will give us more regional clout, and, if successful, could lead to unifying the whole Metro region.

EXHIBIT "A"

CONCEPT PAPER ON POLICE SERVICES PLAN

This document is a proposal for realigning police patrol boundaries between the City and County, and for establishing a planning process through which the Portland Police Bureau, Multnomah County Sheriff's Office, and other police agencies in the county work together to establish how police services will be provided over the next decade.

The current state of Portland's annexations has left many unincorporated islands, and meandering boundaries, thus causing confusion for officers and residents about where jurisdictional boundaries lie. To increase efficiency, we are proposing that patrol districts be traded so that the Portland Police Bureau patrols all areas west of 122nd Avenue, and the Sheriff's Office patrols all areas east. The change would benefit both agencies, and the public as well.

While we propose this action as a short-term solution to a current problem, we are aware of long-standing law enforcement issues between the City and County that need to be resolved. We propose a Planning Group be established to study crime, demographics, growth trends, and projected annexations. This and other information will be used to develop a proposed long range plan for providing police services in Multnomah County. This plan would be brought before the respective political bodies for approval.

This Planning Group would be made up of local police agencies in Multnomah County, as well as government, community, and business representatives. They would develop a planning process which would culminate in a 5-10 year plan for providing police services to the citizens of Multnomah County.

An appointment to this Task Force would not be a duty to be taken lightly. However, both the City and County would benefit greatly from a long range planning and problem solving approach to the provision of police services in this region.

Sheriff Bob Skipper and Chief Tom Potter support this proposal, and pledge to work together in a spirit of mutual cooperation and support. If approved, the other County police officials and their respective political bodies should be asked to join the discussion and planning process.

- a. accurate background information on level, scope, cost and staffing of current service delivery by each government, including relevant history on intergovernmental arrangements;
- b. changes each government would undergo to meet each option, including revenue, cost and personnel impacts; also including service quality and quantity changes, if any;
- c. assessments of the options, applying the criteria identified in the worksheet, but no recommendations for particular options, and;
- d. considerations for implementation, should an option be selected.

ROADS & BRIDGES

Suggested definition:

For purposes of these discussions, roads includes all local streets and arterial roads in Multnomah County, not presently the responsibility of the state or federal government. Transportation services appear to include: maintenance, construction, planning and traffic management.

Transfer road responsibilities to two largest municipalities, Portland and Gresham:

- a. Move from three to two transportation providers;
- b. County contracts with either/ both for road service in unincorporated areas.
- c. East cities contract with either for road services.

OPTION B

Maintain status quo - retain three transportation providers in the county.

SUBJECT: Recommendations of the Process & Ongoing Collaboration Subcommittee

We met on September 12 to discuss how best to advance long-range strategies for joint government collaboration. It became apparent that the key to ongoing success lies in the foundation we establish now as we begin the meetings scheduled through this Fall.

We suggest that the first portion of the October 3 meeting be devoted to establishing that foundation -- a commonly agreed-upon direction for our three governments, perhaps captured and adopted in Resolution form. From there we will have a comprehensive way of making immediate decisions about how particular services are most appropriately provided. We will also have the framework for future collaborative efforts.

We have a document of significance to these discussions, Resolution A. (Attached). We believe it can be updated and improved to meet the needs of our governments today. We hope that by the conclusion of the discussion on October 3, we will have the framework and substance for a "Resolution B" that will guide the service discussions that follow.

We suggest developing the foundation in the following way.

First, there are environmental circumstances that form the context for our discussions. We should briefly identify them. For example:

- eroding public confidence in government
- growth of Gresham
- annexation of mid-county
- reduction of county urban service responsibilities
- growth in county human and justice service responsibilities
- measure 5 and need for increased efficiencies and equitable funding strategies

Second, we believe we can reach good, though perhaps imperfect, decisions about the appropriate provider(s) of services if we proceed with the following values in mind:

- efficiency (avoid duplication & save money)
- preserve/ improve quality of service
- promote local control
- promote regional responsibilities
- accountability
- accessibility
- equitable funding

Third, it is essential that any realignment of responsibilities among our governments must result in the following:

- balance so that each government has a balanced portfolio of responsibilities and the resources to meet them
- a spirit of cooperation and an expectation of on-going collaboration
- results that strengthen all governments in ability to perform core services

Fourth, each government provides core services. We should identify them together. For example, core municipal services could include:

- police
- fire
- water
- sewers
- streets
- neighborhood parks
- land use planning/ adjudication
- housing inspection/ permit

Core county services could include:

- human services
- public health
- corrections (adult & juvenile)
- libraries
- assessment & tax collection
- elections
- other statutory mandates

Regional services presently include:

- zoo
- solid waste
- regional land use/ urban growth planning
- transportation planning

Fifth, there will remain a few services that our governments provide that are not within our core functions. Not surprisingly, the contention among us often arises in these service areas. For the county, this category includes municipal services the county provides to the shrinking unincorporated area, such as land use planning and police patrol, and in the services the county provides almost exclusively to urban areas, such as enhanced animal control and public inebriate services. There are also services that we provide transitionally while waiting for a regional authority to assume responsibility. Regional parks are an example. In addition, there are services that overlap among jurisdictions and would appear to benefit from merger or at least more deliberate coordination. Cable regulation, emergency management, housing and administrative services are among such examples.

The seven services we identified at our first meeting as requiring immediate attention -- animal control, cable, emergency management, law enforcement, land use planning, roads, and administrative services -- fall into this much debated category, for obvious reasons. The first two -- animal control and cable -- are not exclusively within the core functions of any one government. Emergency management, though a county function by state mandate, has been replicated within the municipalities. Law enforcement and land use planning are services the county continues to provide for the most part only to the unincorporated areas. Finally, the division of road responsibility in east county reflects an earlier time before Gresham grew in population and territory.

We do not suggest that governments can provide no more than core services, or that cities and counties may not provide the same, similar or complementary core services. The goal of our joint meetings is to decide how to provide the best service by the most appropriate level of government at the lowest cost. What service is "best", what government is the most "appropriate" and how to determine "lowest cost" are measures we still need to develop.

The three of us attempted to apply the analysis laid out above, remaining aware that all values (such as conflict between local control and regional responsibility) have not been fully examined or addressed. We suggest the following realignments, not to prejudge outcomes in advance of information, but rather to continue the direction setting that has already occurred over the past decade in these service areas (and for which much background analyses already exists):

1. Transfer county operational roads and bridges responsibilities to Gresham and Portland. Develop assurances about quality of service and reasonable costs for remaining county and east city roads. Strengthen the regional transportation planning process.
2. Transfer mid-county police patrol responsibilities to Gresham and Portland in advance of annexation. Examine cost savings of transferring full law enforcement function from county to cities. Convene a Task Force to review and recommend models for greater coordination, specialization, cost savings and/or mergers in county-wide law enforcement.
3. Continue to support the CHAS housing initiative. Identify opportunities to integrate housing and supportive human services among CHAS, non-profit groups, financial institutions and government entities, to meet housing needs for transitional, special needs, emergency shelter, homeless and low income groups.
4. Continue county provided animal control services at levels exceeding a basic public health function by billing cities for their share of use of such services.
5. Transfer funding responsibilities for inebriate pick-up and sobering services from the county to the City of Portland.
6. Formalize existing coordination agreements among jurisdictions in emergency management planning; take necessary first steps to consolidate all jurisdictions' planning responsibilities with goal of region-wide planning.
7. Consolidate staffing for the two cable commissions; plan to merge the two commissions with the goal, at the expiration of contracts, of a single franchise county-wide.
8. Transfer responsibilities and funding for land use planning from the county to the City of Portland. Develop assurances about maintenance of current level of service to rural Multnomah County.

After updated analyses it may become obvious that a particular initiative is too costly or cumbersome or fails to meet necessary criteria. We believe that even with the best proposals, the larger recurring concerns of local control, regional responsibility and equitable funding will remain.

Nonetheless, we believe we can and should signal appropriate realignments, so that we can direct staff to prepare the most comprehensive information on implementation, timelines, costs, and issues remaining to be addressed.

Even more important than the immediate service discussions, we believe, are the agreements we reach now to work collaboratively and think creatively on issues that cross our jurisdictional and functional lines. Private and public entities in addition to ourselves may need to be involved. We have identified three areas in which ongoing cooperation can be encouraged and enhanced:

- housing (the spectrum of emergency to affordable)
- justice services (the range from prevention to corrections)
- taxation

We will report back to you at a later time on what is happening and what may be possible for cooperation in these three areas.

Re: Revisions to Joint Government Meeting Proposal and
Procedural Considerations for October 3rd Meeting

Date: September 27, 1991

Each of us has discussed the September 23rd Joint Government Draft Proposal with our colleagues. We then met on September 26th. This memo suggests revisions to the September 23rd draft and proposes procedures designed to maximize the progress which we believe can be made at our Thursday, October 3rd meeting.

Revisions to Draft Proposal

Given certain alterations, there appears to be a solid majority on the Gresham City Council, the Portland City Council and the Multnomah County Commission for the draft proposal circulated to you earlier this week.

The most significant change is in item 2 on page 4, the discussion of law enforcement responsibilities. The following language would be substituted:

The three major police forces which now provide law enforcement services in Multnomah County--the Portland City Police(PPD), the Gresham City Police(GPD), and the Multnomah County Sheriff's Office(MCSO)--will be consolidated into either two forces or one force through a two step process.

Step 1: The County will stop providing police patrols in unincorporated Multnomah County. The provision of these services will be contracted to another appropriate police agency.

Step 2: Two full proposals will be developed analyzing the operational and fiscal implications of consolidation of one or two of the existing police agencies. The first proposal would focus on the completely eliminating of the policing functions of MCSO, dividing those responsibilities between PPD and GPD. The second proposal would focus on consolidating all three agencies into one.

Commissioner Pauline Anderson is circulating an alternate proposal relating to roads and bridges. She is circulating her suggestion to all participants before the October 3rd meeting.

A major concern raised by several individuals at several points in the draft proposal related to "accountability". The issue involves the ability of citizens to redress their elected officials when the government actually providing a service is not their government. For example, how is a citizen of unincorporated Multnomah County assured access to decisions concerning their police services when that service is being provide, through contract, by the PPD? This issue will need to be resolved as the detailed proposals in each area are developed.

Other suggested wording changes, clarifications and corrections are relatively minor in nature and can be discussed at the October 3rd meeting.

Procedures for October 3rd Meeting

There was general agreement about the process discussed in the draft proposal. In sum, the overall process will involve preliminary decisions by the Joint Government Group on the seven areas identified at our September 4th meeting, development of detailed proposals for the implementation of each of those decisions, and, based on that information, final ratification of the decisions and implementation plans by each of the governments involved.

To that end, we propose the following agenda for the October 3rd meeting.

1. Discussion of the environmental factors, value statements, and core service responsibilities described in the September 23rd draft. We will need to decide if and how this framework should be formalized--e. g. adoption of a Resolution B.
2. Preliminary decisions on the seven items identified at our first meeting. Assignment to work groups of the responsibility to develop detailed plans and timelines for implementing the decisions.
3. Discussion of methods for dealing with the "cross-cutting" issues (e.g. housing and criminal justice), the responsibility for which will continue to be vested in more than one government.
4. Presentation by staff and discussion of their preliminary work on "roads and bridges".

We are assuming while meeting as the Joint Government Group, our first attempt will be to make decisions by consensus. When that proves impractical, each governing body will need to indicate if there is majority support for a certain decision.
