Speaker #1

Ray Mathis, Citizen Crime Commission

I am Ray Mathis. For the record, I'm the Executive Director of the Citizen's Crime Commission. Chair Stein, County Commissioners, as you know we are a non-partisan, non-profit organization representing the business community on public safety issues and are affiliated with the Portland Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce.

I'm appearing before you today in support of the move of the West District Community Justice Office from this present location to the Mead Building at 421 SW Fifth Avenue. This is in the Downtown Business area and is seven blocks from its current location.

The Citizen's Crime Commission supports the move for the following reasons:

- The County, we believe, has been very thorough in the search for an appropriate site.
- We believe that our concerns for public safety, cleanliness, and management of this facility will be met by the County.
- We believe that this facility will serve clients who are, for the most part, from that general area.
- It is also our opinion that most of the people reporting to these offices will not want to stay in the general area of their probation and parole officers, and will not be an additional problem to the community.
- We believe that the County has addressed the issues of waiting areas for clients and restroom facilities, which we think are very important.
- The building at 421 SW Fifth Avenue is consistent with the County's long term ownership policy.

As you know the CCC has been involved in many siting processes in the past. We view this particular siting as a benign event because the clientele are presently being serviced in the general area where the building is located.

We have confidence that the County's plans have been carefully thought through and that the County will live up to the good neighbor agreement, and therefore we support the move of the Community Justice West District Office to the Mead Building.

Thank You.

Speaker #2
Lynnae Berg, Portland Police Bureau

Good Evening, my name is Lynnae Berg. I'm an assistant Chief with the City of Portland Police Bureau. Chair Stein and Commissioners, I'm here this evening representing Chief Moose to testify on behalf of locating the Community Justice West District Office at 421 SW Fifth Av.

This location provides needed space for educational services, job search and treatment readiness for the client populations. It is a good stewardship decision to utilize the existing facility and consolidate programs.

The County's stated willingness to engage in problem-solving regarding potential problems, and the participation in a good neighborhood agreement will ensure that any safety concerns or negative impacts will be addressed.

There will be challenges: this site is in the middle of a Drug Free Zone. But Central Precinct will work with the parole and probation officers to establish variance parameters for those clients who are excluded. This collaboration can achieve the balance of needed access with accountability.

More important than the challenge is the context in which the solution will be crafted. I believe we have a good relationship with the Department of Community Justice and that promises positive outcomes on any issue.

Thank you.
