National Public Health Week was established by the American Public Health Association in 1995 as a way to recognize the contributions of public health and prevention services to America's well-being. For the past six years, Multnomah County Health Department, with the support of the Board of County Commissioners, has recognized and celebrated our local public health heroes. Over forty community members, organizations, businesses, youth, county employees, and policy makers have been given the distinguished honor of Public Health Hero to honor their efforts to promote the health and wellbeing of Multnomah County. The recognition of numerous community partners has been a public acknowledgement of the many diverse ways that everyday citizens, as well as highly trained professionals contribute to the overall health of Multnomah County.
